

Teaching and Learning Committee

The Teaching and Learning Committee meet every fortnight to discuss, shape and make decisions about teaching and learning at our school. The views and opinions expressed by the committee members on behalf of their peers are highly valued and are taken into consideration when planning ways in which aspects of teaching and learning can be improved. The children's ideas and suggestions have already led to significant improvements in the quality of teaching and learning. Last year, for example, our new school library, 'The Reading Rainforest', was developed using the ideas of committee members who worked closely with a designer and a librarian to establish this fantastic facility which is now used regularly by all our learners. This year, our priority has been to ensure that Pupil Voice drives teaching and learning in all classes with our learners consistently making decisions about what happens both in and beyond the classroom.
