Dear Parent/Carer

I am writing to advise you that the local authority is aware of some information being distributed outside schools, and across social media, relating to relationships and sexuality education within the school curriculum.

I would like to reassure parents/carers that the new curriculum in Wales will include teaching for children's rights and equality, and place an important focus on healthy relationships. This will be delivered in line with your child's development and will be age appropriate.

I have added information below from Welsh Government to ensure that you are clear on the facts related to this area.

If you have any concerns related to this area, please speak directly with your child's school.

With my thanks for your continuing support
